Prenatal Care Coordination

A Wisconsin Medicaid benefit

What is Prenatal Care Coordination?

Prenatal Care Coordination is a Medicaid benefit that helps pregnant women get the support and services they need to have a healthy baby.

Prenatal Care Coordination services include:

- Help getting the health care you need.
- Personal support.
- Information on good eating habits and health practices (health education and nutrition counseling).
- Information and help finding needed services in your community.

How do I know if this service is for me?

The care coordinator will help you by asking about your:

- Medicaid eligibility.
- Current pregnancy.
- Health history.
- Relationships.
- Worries.

If you are eligible, the care coordinator will help you get the services you need. There is no copayment for this service.

Questions that a care coordinator can help you with:

When should I go to the doctor?

How will I get to the doctor?

What will labor and delivery be like?

Should I breast feed my baby?

How does this work if I am in a Medicaid HMO?

What other community services are available to me?

Why is Medicaid doing this?

Everyone, at some time, needs a helping hand with things such as:

- Locating child care.
- Dealing with family or emotional problems.
- Coping with alcohol and other drug use.
- Dealing with other problems that are bothering you.

A care coordinator can help you during these times. The care coordinator will listen to your concerns and answer your questions.

Where can I find a prenatal care coordinator?

Contact one of the following to find a care coordinator near you:

- Local public health department.
- Maternal and Child Health Hotline at 1-800-722-2295.
- Medicaid Recipient Services at 1-800-362-3002.
